10. SUNDAY	Breakfast at the hotel. Visit to the Academic Town, including the ethnographic and archaeological museum. Excursion to the scientific city of Akademgorodok (30 km from the center of Novosibirsk). It is a unique scientific town where all branches of science are represented. Akademgorodok is sometimes referred to by European media as the "Scientific Vatican." In 1957, during the Cold War, Nikita Khrushchev and the Soviet mathematician Mikhail Lavrentiev founded a special city for scientific research called Akademgorodok, meaning "academic town." It was built near Novosibirsk, in a forested area, and leading Soviet scientists were invited to relocate there. Today, Akademgorodok is a beautiful town that is home to Novosibirsk State University, several academies, and 35 scientific research institutes. The community is far from factories and industrial plants and enjoys proximity to the Ob Sea, the reservoir created by the Ob River dam. You will enter Akademgorodok via Lavrentiev Avenue, listed in the Guinness Book of Records as the "most scientific street in the world." You will also see the Ob River reservoir (the artificial Ob Sea). Free time for lunch. Free time in Novosibirsk. Transfer to the railway station. Departure by train to Krasnoyarsk at 19:34. 16. SATURDAY	Breakfast at the hotel. Today we immerse ourselves in the world of Lake Baikal, full of hidden and fascinating details. At the Baikal Museum, you will learn about the origin of the lake, its unique flora and fauna. The experience is complemented by a model of a bathyscaphe diving to the lake's depths and an artistic display of the Baikal seal's movements. The final panoramic photo stop will be at the source of the Angara River, the only river flowing from Lake Baikal. Rising 728 meters above sea level, the guide will explain the difference between Chersky Stone and Chersky Mountain and share the story of the explorer Chersky. The culmination of the day is a visit to the Russian village from the 17th-19th centuries at the Taltsy Architectural and Ethnographic Museum. You will see village churches, peasant homesteads, a rural school, and local administration buildings. It feels as if time has stopped here, and the villagers are about to resume their daily activities. You will also learn about the culture of the Evenks, Tofs, and Buryats, the indigenous peoples of Siberia. Free time for lunch. 19. TUESDAY	Breakfast at hotel. 08:00 AM – Meeting with the Samar Magic Tours team at the hotel reception. Departure northeast to the 40-meter / 133.3-foot Genghis Khan Equestrian Statue (55 km / 34.2 miles, approx. +2 hours, depending on traffic). The statue symbolically faces east towards his birthplace. It stands on top of the Genghis Khan Statue Complex, a visitor center 10 meters (32 ft 10 in) high, with 36 columns representing the 36 khans from Genghis Khan to Ligdan Khan. Visitors walk up to the horse's head through its chest and neck to enjoy a panoramic view. Nearby, travellers may take beautiful photos with Kazakhs and their Golden Eagles, ride Bactrian camels or Mongolian horses across the steppe, or try archery (*extra payment on-site). A traditional Mongolian lunch is included in route. Continue to Gorkhi-Terelj National Park (50 km / 31.1 miles, approx. 1hr). Located northeast at 1600 m above sea level, the park features towering Mesozoic granite formations, mountains, steppes, alpine forests, and iconic rock formations such as Turtle Rock. The Park lies at the foothills of the Khentii Mountains, the birthplace of Genghis Khan. Declared a National Park in 1993, it covers 300,000 hectares. Stop for photos, souvenir shopping, and a short walk to the Great Turtle Rock, symbol of the Gorkhi-Terelj National Park. Gentle hike to the Arryabal Meditation Temple, located on a hillside. Afterwards, return to Ulaanbaatar (70 km / 44 miles, approx. +2 hours, depending on traffic). Last chance for Mongolian souvenir shopping at the main State Department Store. ## ABOUT CABIN ACCOMMODATION IN REGULAR RUSSIAN TRAINS:

- 4 berths cabin accommodate 4 pax per cabin.
- 2 Toilets for each carriage, shared among the passengers in 8 cabins
- No attached toilet in the cabin.
- We will not use the same train for the whole journey.
- There is no restaurant wagon on the train between Irkutsk and Ulaanbaatar.
- Free flow drinking boiled water in the train, and there is also a microwave in the attendant room. You can ask the attendant to use microwave to heat your food.
- There are 2 – 4 power sockets with 220V output in each cabin.
- Train cabin usually set at room temperature (Air conditioned).

A 4-bed cabin (Kupe/Second Class) on the Moscow to Ulaanbaatar train offers a budget-friendly, authentic experience with two upper and two lower bunks, a small table, storage, and shared carriage facilities like a toilet, sink, and Samovar for hot water; while not luxurious, it's clean, provides bedding, and allows for social interaction, with the option to book all four bunks for more privacy.

Prices, services, and other information of the products detailed on this page and on the website www.samarmagtours.com are not binding and may change without prior notice.

Cabin Features (Second Class/Kupe)

Bunks: Four berths (two lower, two upper) with ladders to reach the top bunks.

Space: Enough room for luggage under lower bunks and in overhead racks, plus a small table by the window.

Bedding: Clean sheets, pillows, duvets, and blankets are provided.

Privacy: A lockable door secures the compartment, though it's shared with three strangers unless you buy all four berths.

Power: Charging points are usually available near the window.

Prices, services, and other information of the products detailed on this page and on the website www.samarmagtours.com are not binding and may change without prior notice.

Carriage Amenities

Toilet & Sink: A shared toilet and sink are located at the end of each carriage.

Samovar: A constant supply of hot water for tea and coffee is available in the carriage.

Attendants (Provodnik/Provodnitsa): Staff keep the carriage clean and help with services.

Experience & Tips

Social Atmosphere: Sharing with others creates opportunities for conversation and making friends.

Privacy Option: You can book all four berths in a Second-Class cabin for sole occupancy and privacy, similar to a First-Class cabin but potentially cheaper.

Bunk Choice: Lower bunks offer more headroom and are easier to access, while upper bunks give you more personal space during the day.

Amenities: Some trains may lack air conditioning or Wi-Fi, contributing to a "simpler time" feel.

SECURITY & SAFETY ON THE TRANS-SIBERIAN/TRANS-MONGOLIAN TRAIN

Is the trans-Siberian safe to travel?

Russia in particular still has a bit of an image problem with regards to personal safety. However, once in Russia, and particularly on the trains, most quickly realize that a Trans-Siberian trip is no more 'dangerous' than any rail trip in Europe or North America.

In Russia: On the trains your safety is a top priority for the Provodnik & Provodnitsas who look after your carriage and also for security staff who travel on the trains. If you keep your common-sense hat on you should not have any issues with theft.

Cabins can be locked from the inside by you or from the outside by the conductors on request. At train station stops you are usually only allowed to board the carriage you have a ticket for.

Perhaps the biggest risk is at the start or end of a train journey at the train stations – particularly arriving at stations. Do keep a good eye on your bags and pockets and this applies as much (if not more) to Ulaanbaatar station and all the big stations in Russia where large crowds are the norm.

In Mongolia: Mongolia is a safe place for tourism; there are no drugs, assaults, or weapons. However, as anywhere in the world, one must be cautious with pickpockets. It is recommended that upon arrival at the hotel you immediately place in the hotel safe (in the room or at reception): passport, visas, money, documents, valuables, etc., before going out for visits in Ulaanbaatar. Be careful in restaurants, pizzerias, cafés, markets, the central post office, and monasteries, where there are pickpockets.

MONEY & PAYMENTS ON THE TRANS-SIBERIAN/TRANS-MONGOLIAN TRAINS

1. With regard to money on trains there are the following general rules to take into account:

- Only count on being able to use local currency on the train and at stations – it is rare you can pay in USD or Euros these days.
- Don't count on finding any ATMs at the stations even if told they exist - they also currently won't take Western issued cards such as Visa and MasterCard.
- Bring enough money on to the train with you to get you to your next destination.
- Bring a little more than you think you will need!
- You can change money at the borders if you need to.
- You can change or obtain Russian Rubles or Tugriks in Mongolia.

2. Can I pay by card on the Trans-Siberian/Trans-Mongolian Trains?

Inside Russia it is now possible to pay by card on some trains and you can't currently use Western issued cards such as Visa and MasterCard in Russia.

However, as this is a new development there can be a reluctance to take a card payment – particularly from foreigners. For whatever reasons, cash is still insisted on. As payment by card becomes more commonplace, we hope this will change. As ever, if you are going to use a card make sure you let your bank know in advance where you will be travelling or they may put a block on your card.

Card payments on trains are not yet possible in Mongolia.

GENERAL PAYMENT CONDITIONS

PRICE: Prices are calculated based on double standard occupancy at specified hotels or similar, and based on accommodation in a 4-berth sleeper compartment by trains. Prices and rates are quoted in USD and are subject to change.

PLEASE NOTE: A Naadam Festival surcharge applies for travel from July 1 to July 20 (Peak Season in Mongolia), when all services and accommodations are fully booked.

of issuance.

HOTELS: Rooms may be used from 2:00 PM on the day of arrival and must be vacated before 12:00 noon on the day of departure.

TRANSPORT: Samar Magic Tours reserves the right to change the vehicle depending on the number of participants. Under no circumstances will we accept claims for this reason, and no refunds will be made.

CLIMATE CHANGES: Not included in our services. These are external conditions. In such cases, we will do everything possible to find the best available solution. However, no claims will be accepted for the consequences of weather changes, and no refunds will be made.

TRAVEL CONDITIONS: Mongolia is a country where tourist infrastructure is almost non-existent and still in development. Distances are vast, requiring many hours of travel and involving significant fuel costs. The journey is carried out mostly on dirt and sand tracks. Depending on their condition, travellers may spend many hours on the road. A large part of the Mongolian population is still nomadic, moving from place to place on horseback, camel, or yak, with their Gers and herds. An occasional encounter with one of these families and their way of life is an unforgettable experience. To enjoy the trip, travellers must accept these conditions in advance, let go of preconceived notions about how things "should" be, and remain open to what this country has to offer.

FORCE MAJEURE CONDITIONS: While it is our absolute desire to carry out the trip as detailed in the program, on occasion there may be force majeure circumstances that require modifications. Samar Magic Tours is not legally responsible for those force majeure situations beyond the organization's control that may force changes to the travel program. These reasons and circumstances include possible security risks for travellers, political instability or violence, rebellions or the threat of rebellion, strikes, riots and violent actions, decisions by governments or local authorities, technical or maintenance problems related to transport, changes in flight or road schedules or routes, natural disasters, epidemics, adverse weather conditions, and any other circumstances beyond the control of Samar Magic Tours.

If, due to exceptional circumstances of force majeure, it becomes necessary to cancel the trip, there is no obligation of compensation. I have read and understood the section on Obligations and Responsibility detailed above in the form, as well as the General Information and Special Booking Conditions set out in the tour information materials, and I accept them on behalf of myself and my group. I declare that I am not traveling against any medical advice.

FACT SHEET – MONGOLIA

Currency: The official currency in Mongolia is the Tugrik or Tugrug (T). It comes in banknotes of 10, 20, 50, 100, 500, 1,000, 5,000, 10,000, and 20,000 Tugrik. It is advisable to bring EUROS or USD and exchange them progressively. Currency exchange can be done at banks and hotels in Ulaanbaatar.

Climate: Known as the land of the blue sky, but its climate is extreme and severe. Siberian winters cover the Gobi Desert with snow until April and keep lakes frozen until May. The rainy season is short, from mid-July to September, with brief and light showers. Nights are cool even in summer.

Approximate temperatures in Mongolia:

Spring:	May	[around 14°C daytime, 6° °C nighttime. Occasional rain, generally cool.]
Summer:	June-August	[28-30 °C daytime, 18 °C nighttime. Mostly dry with occasional rain.]
Autumn:	September.	[21-16 °C daytime, 0 °C nighttime. Dry and cold.]

Luggage: The lighter the luggage, the better. A soft backpack or travel bag is recommended, plus a small daypack for essentials during the day (camera, skin and lip cream, binoculars, canteen, and flashlight). A raincoat or poncho and a good parka, warm clothes for high places, light cotton clothes, sunglasses, and a cap for midday heat, as well as comfortable footwear, are recommended. Clients are advised to bring binoculars.

Small first-aid kit: mosquito repellent, saline solution, gauze, aspirin, paracetamol.

Electricity: 220V, 50Hz. European round plug.

Clothing: No special requirements regarding dress, just respect local customs.

Photography: The country is one of the most photogenic in the world, with its landscapes, wildlife, culture, and people. Entrance fees to museums, National Parks, and Monasteries are included in the trip according to the program, but photography is not. In many monasteries and temples, photos are not allowed unless you pay the set fee. Always check before taking photos, as notices are written in Cyrillic or Mongolian, often unintelligible for us; once you take a picture, payment is immediate.

Food: The basis of food in Mongolia is meat. Lamb and flour form the base of most meals. The Mongolian diet also includes horse meat. Milk and yogurt have an exquisite taste. Prices, services, and other information of the products detailed on this page and on the website www.samarmagtours.com are not binding and may change without prior notice.

though strong flavor. Cow and goat cheese are common.

Milk may not be pasteurized, and some dairy products can therefore be unsafe. It should be boiled, and foods should preferably be consumed cooked. This is the health guideline, but in reality, once you stop at a Ger, guests are always invited to enter and offered aromatic airag (fermented mare's milk) and goat, yak, or sheep cheese, all acidic and dry. Refusing would not be polite.

Shopping: Bargaining is not common in Mongolia. Even bargaining, you won't usually pay less than 70% of the asking price. Some shops offer handicrafts, postcards, and clothing. Also available are carpets, leather and fur products, as well as cashmere and camel hair items. Wooden toys, puzzles, and games, along with oil paintings and watercolors. In the capital's stores, European products are available—expensive, especially in the State Department Store and other new shopping centers—which carry almost anything you may want, both Mongolian and foreign.

Precautions: Mongolia is a safe place for tourism; there are no drugs, assaults, or weapons. However, as anywhere in the world, one must be cautious with pickpockets. It is recommended that upon arrival at the hotel you immediately place in the hotel safe (in the room or at reception): passport, visas, money, documents, valuables, etc., before going out for visits in Ulaanbaatar. Be careful in restaurants, pizzerias, cafés, markets, the central post office, and monasteries, where there are pickpockets.
